Film Premiere: Agile Fragile

A Film by Andrew Kalleen

Nov. 7th in Brooklyn, NY

Dear ONACNY Family & Friends,

We are delighted to invite you to a special film premiere featuring the creative work of our longtime community member and dear friend, Andrew Kalleen!

Many of you may know Andrew through his music and his years of involvement with our community. We are excited to celebrate a new chapter in his artistic journey as he makes his debut as a writer and director with his first narrative film, Agile Fragile.

This is a wonderful opportunity for us to come together, reconnect, and celebrate the creativity and unique gifts within our beautiful spiritual family. We look forward to sharing an inspiring evening of art, friendship, and community spirit!

With love and gratitude,
Little Owl & the ONACNY Team 🦉💛✨

About the Film

Agile Fragile is a 40-minute dark drama exploring the complexities and challenges of walking a path of loving-kindness.

This special event marks the film's first public screening!

Following the screening, audience members will be invited to share their feelings, reflections, and perspectives, followed by an open Q&A with the cast and crew.

For those unable to attend in person, the film will also be available to watch online after the premiere.

Meet the Artist – Andrew Kalleen

Andrew Kalleen is a NYC based artist playing mainly with music, and more recently branching into film. A grateful member of ONAC since 2014, Andrew has dedicated himself to a path of freeing his voice, and believes in the power of wholly embodied expression to heal our species.
